HOW DOES THIS AFFECT OUR #JUSTJOURNEY AHEAD?

Parents are the first teachers and role models for children. Children learn how to behave in relationships by watching their parents' relationships.

Considering that the majority of incarcerated parents are not long fathers, and that half of all fathers and single parents are mothers...

...it is clear that women are the ones who are most affected by incarceration.

According to the Sentencing Project, women are the fastest growing segment of the prison population.

Kids will want to meet their parents' needs, and will often sacrifice their own needs to do so.

Children who lose their parents to incarceration are more likely to suffer from depression.

On top of that, because the system disproportionately incarcerates vulnerable populations,

Families most affected by incarceration tend to be those who already have the least resources and face the most barriers.

African American Women in Maryland are 7.5X MORE LIKELY to have an incarcerated parent than white children.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR FAMILIES DOING #JUSTJOURNEY?

When families in the #JUSTJOURNEY are incarcerated,

HOUSING INCOME Both

65% ARE EMPLOYED AT THE TIME OF ARREST

1/3 ARE UNEMPLOYED

Having an incarcerated parent can have a significant and long-lasting impact on one's economic well-being.

Family bonds are weakened, which can increase recidivism and hamper children's academic development.

Parental incarceration is associated with a number of negative outcomes for children, including behavioral problems, poor school performance, and mental health problems.

Children are ashamed to tell others about their parent's incarceration, and may withdraw socially.

EFFECTS ON THE CHILDREN/FAMILY

Children who have had a parent incarcerated are more likely to be incarcerated themselves.

Having had a parent incarcerated is a risk factor for substance abuse.

Caring for the kin of incarcerated significantly burdens them.

1 IN 3 CHILDREN WITH INCARCERATED PARENTS WILL SUFFER FROM MENTAL HEALTH PROBLEMS

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR FAMILIES IN #JUSTJOURNEY?

Children with incarcerated parents are 3 times more likely than their peers to suffer from emotional issues.

EFFECTS ON THE FORMERLY INCARCERATED PARENT

It's harder to get employment with a criminal record.

Incarceration is a traumatic experience that can have long-lasting effects on mental health.

Substance abuse is a common coping mechanism for those who have been incarcerated.

Other possible factors to #JUSTJOURNEY that may hinder successful reentry:

IN KY FORMER FELONS HAVE NO VOTING RIGHTS

300,000 KENTUCKIANS ARE DISENFRANCHISED

THIS TAKES AWAY TREMENDOUS VOTING POWER FROM THE COMMUNITY

We believe that ease of voting rights is a powerful way to engage citizens. We also believe that we need to better support citizens in their reentry process. Therefore, we support the Restore the Vote campaign. We encourage you to contact your legislators and ask them to support legislation to increase the ease that former felons can regain their voting rights. #RestoreTheVote
